Banking And Finance Management System

Description: It is a web development project using Django framework of python. I've created the project in such a way that frontend part has both user and admin login too. When it comes to database I have used "Postgre SQL" for operating the data.

It is a great experience as it taken me from learning mistakes to rectifying own errors. A great learning. Especially my role in the project as a team lead gave me a new experience of leadership qualities.

Declaration: I affirm that the information provided is entirely accurate, and I willingly accept responsibility for any grievances that may arise.
